

VARIOUS Governmental and non-governmental organisations celebrated the Constitution Day across the city with patriotic fervor.

Department of Social Justice

THE Department of Social Justice launched the 'Ghar Ghar Samvidhan' initiative in Bagpur District on Tuesday, to commemorate the 75 years of the Indian Constitution. The day is observed as Constitution Day. This yearlong celebrations, announced by the Government, aims to spread constitutional values, promote awareness about citizens' rights and duties, and emphasise national integration. While addressing the gathering through video message, former Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said that 'Har Ghar Tiranga' is a mission to spread awareness about the constitutional values and patriotism among masses. "We the citizens of India are lucky and fortunate that to celebrate the 75th year of the Constitution and 'Amrit Mahotsav' of India's Independence both," said Fadnavis. The senior officials and committee members of the administration read out the Constitution's Preamble at Samajik Nyay Bhavan. A special lecture on the Constitution by additional district collector Tushar Thombre was held at Niyaz Bhavan, targeting govt officials and employees. The programme launched at the hands of Vijayalaxmi Bidari, Divisional Commissioner on Tuesday. Dr Vipin Itankar, Collector; Rajesh Khawle; Anoop Khande; Babasaheb Deshmukh; Vijay Wakulkar; Dr Mangesh Wankhede; Sukeshini Telgote; Kishor Bhoyar and others also were present.
